Reunion 2010 at Mukhtar's office and receiving a thank you gift for his extreme hospitality.

Coordinator's note

I am blessed to have such a good friend. I have very fond memories of our boating trips to river Ravi during our KE days. His wife may not know this but he used to be an excellent cook. I had the good fortune of eating his gourmet cooking during 1973-4 when we shared a house during our residency at Coney Island Hospital in New York. He is an extremely generous host. It is rare for anybody to be able to pay for the dinner no matter how large the group. He was the host of 2010 class reunion which was the best reunion that I have ever attended. He goes out of his ways to help others. During the earthquake in Kashmir, he was among the first Pakistani doctors to go back and help the victims. He is an excellent example of what a decent human being should be. For this KEMCAANA endowment contribution the only thing I had to do was to just mention this program once. I am eternally grateful for this contribution. Mukhtar, I salute you. There are not that many people like you.
